

AUTHORIZATION TO DISCLOSE AND USE INFORMATION

FERPA, also known as the Buckley Amendment, is a federal law that gives students' some rights of privacy and disclosure over the records and documents that relate to them, which are maintained by the University. Unless otherwise permitted under FERPA, the University may not disclose the information contained in student education records without a student's written permission. The purpose of this form is to enable a student to give permission to the University to share his/her education records, as further provided below.

I, _____, give the Dean of Students Office (DOS) permission to disclose the following education records to the individual(s) listed below:

This includes the contents of this waiver, unless this box is checked:

The purpose of this disclosure is to:

Update individual(s) listed below

Other: _____

Name of Student: _____

Student Identification #: _____

Person(s) with whom information can be released: _____

Dates in effect: _____ to _____

Student's signature: _____

Date: _____

Witnessed by: _____